FERRELL AIDS STATE PATROL IN ROAD DRIVE

Drunken and Reckless Drivers Targets Of New War

Joining in the move to stamp out the drunken or reckless driver in San Mateo county, Dist. Atty. Gilbert Ferrell today gave his full endorsement to Monday's statement of Capt. Paul Perussina that relentless war will be carried on against the careless motorist.

"I endorse Captain Perussina's statement absolutely," the district attorney said.

"We have enough traffic accidents now without showing leniency with drunken and reckless drivers.

"I am quite in sympathy with the move to do everything possible to make our highways safe, and on behalf of our office I pledge full cooperation in the drive against careless motorists."

Ferrell reiterated his intention to prefer charges against Mrs. Jessie Brown of Mill Valley, driver of the car which killed three people in an accident on the Bayshore highway Saturday.

Ferrell said the charges would be held in abeyance pending Mrs. Brown's recovery, but that she then likely would face counts of manslaughter and homicidal negligence, the latter under new provisions of the California Vehicle Act.

Drunk Driving Case Halts to Sober Man

SAN MATEO, Nov. 26.—Joseph McCann, 47, San Mateo plasterer, who appeared in court today on a charge of driving while drunk, was sent by Judge Arthur H. Stetson to a cell to sober up.

McCann, arrested by local police, will appear tomorrow to answer two drunk charges instead of the one on which he originally was booked, but released on bail.

Amphlett Allowance Withdrawal Denied

Petition of Richard Amphlett and his three sisters that the $150 monthly allowance being given Mrs. Horace Amphlett, widow of the late San Mateo publisher, from the Amphlett estate be discontinued was denied Monday by Superior Judge A. R. Cotton.

The petitioners alleged that payment recently of a $12,500 insurance policy should be sufficient for the widow, and that since only about $7,000 remained in the estate, the rest having been distributed to heirs, the $150 allowance should be discontinued. Judge Cotton reasoned that while the estate still had money, it should continue the payments. He denied the petition "without prejudice," leaving the way open for its renewal when the estate's funds are further depleted.

Mrs. Amphlett soon will begin to receive a $350-a-month allowance from a trust fund created by the estate.

Socialists to Join Laval Overthrow Plot

PARIS, Nov. 26 (UP)—The Socialist party decided at a meeting today to co-operate with the other left wing parties for overthrow of Premier Pierre Laval's government.

The Socialists propose a "left front" government in which the Socialists, who have refused consistently to join cabinets in which the Reich is represented, would collaborate, with the object of calling new elections.

The cabinet meanwhile decided to appeal to the patriotism of the chamber of deputies when it reconvenes Thursday and to demand immediate debate on its policy of economy and financial reform.

MRS. BROWN RITES HELD

(Special to The Tribune)

BURLINGAME, Nov. 25—Last rites for Mrs. Elsie Brown, Burlingame lodge worker, who died Friday night after a short illness, were held this afternoon from the William F. Crosby Parlors.

5 'FAMOUS' MEN SPEAK TO CLUB

Toastmasters Listen To 'Roosevelt,' Other Celebrities

Never has such an "illustrious" group of "celebrities" addressed a Redwood City organization as talked last evening before the local Toastmasters' Club meeting in the social hall of the Methodist church.

Kermit Roosevelt, son of ex-president "Teddy"; Elmer Layden, Notre Dame coach and one of the original "Four Horsemen"; Capt. Atkinson, who was a member of the tragic Robert Scott expedition to the Antarctic, and George L. "Tex" Rickard, father of the prize fight "battles of the century," were the speakers.

The occasion was a program by the local speaking organization, which was transformed for the evening into the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco.

"Roosevelt" was Andrew Spinas; "Layden," Milum Tackitt; "Capt. Atkinson," Taylor Reedy; "Rickard," Fred Glover.

Perry Bygdnes represented, under his own name, the biographer of Antony van Leeuwenhoek, Dutch scientist.

Under the chairmanship of B. E. Myers, organizer of the program, the speakers presented five-minute talks, each speaking as if he were in reality the celebrity represented.

"Roosevelt" told of a buffalo hunting expedition made in Africa with his father; "Layden" explained various football systems; Bygdnes related discoveries the Dutch scientist made with the supermicroscopes he developed through study of lenses; "Rickard" explained the ballyhoo of prizefight promoting, and "Capt. Atkinson" advised his hearers to lead an "adventurous life."

Nominations for new officers will occupy the club next week, with elections set for following Monday.

Moore, Former P. A. 'Ad' Man, Buys Paper

With today's issue of the Pittsburgh Independent, the daily newspaper becomes the property of J. Paul Moore, former advertising manager of the Palo Alto Times, and Ted Bishop, former owner and editor of the Atascadero News.

The Independent has been known as the only Democratic daily in Contra Costa county, but under the new ownership will be conducted as a politically independent newspaper.

Moore, who will assume the duties of publisher, was associated with the Palo Alto Times for 12 years, having gone to the Times from the Modesto Evening News. He attended Stanford University.

Bishop, a University of Washington man, will be the editor. He recently sold his Atascadero property.

The former owners of the Independent were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. MacBride. Mr. MacBride is postmaster at Pittsburgh.

Three Land Parcels Sell for $75,000

Sale of three parcels of San Mateo county property, involving transactions totaling $75,000, was disclosed today with filing of deeds with Recorder T. Clark Rice.

The California Pacific Title and Trust Company sold to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Friend 98.23 acres in the restricted Belle Haven tract south of Redwood City. According to federal stamps attached, consideration was $20,000.

Twenty-seven acres of the Sanford Sachs estate near Portola were sold by the Wells Fargo Bank and Trust Company and Hilda S. Newbauer, executors, to The Lurie Company of San Francisco for $25,000, according to stamps affixed, while The Lurie Company transferred property on the Page Mill road valued at $30,000 to Leander L. James.

SECURES NEW POSITION

Miss Evelyn Heydenfeldt, until recently deputy treasurer, has taken a position as copyist in the office of County Recorder T. C. Rice.

ROLISON OFF FOR CAPITAL AND NEW JOB

City Manager Departs After Six Years Service Here

City Manager Ernest Rolison, who formally resigned his post here November 18 after 6½ years of service to Redwood City, left Tuesday with Mrs. Rolison for Washington, D. C.

They left by morning train at Oakland, and will proceed to Flint, Mich., where Mr. Rolison will take delivery of a car, and from there they will drive to Washington to arrive in time for him to assume new duties in the capital December 1.

Rolison will become an assistant to Morris L. Cooke, rural electrification administrator. He was chosen for his practical knowledge of electrical problems.

Farewells were said to Mr. Rolison last night at a gathering of a few intimate acquaintances at Chartier's, in Belmont. The group, through a presentation made by Mayor Charles Lambert, gave him a black leather brief case to be kept as a reminder of his days in Redwood City.

Tribute was paid by speakers to Mr. Rolison for "sincerity in attention to the duties of city manager" and for "insistence on carrying out his duties in the public interest."

Rolison came here July 1, 1929, to become Redwood City's first city manager.

William M. Brown Applies for Post

Fourth qualified man to seek the post left vacant by departure of City Manager Ernest A. Rolison for Washington, William M. Brown, former manager at Tulare, Tuesday filed his application with City Clerk B. E. Myers.

Now residing at 2215 Denby street, Berkeley, Brown stated in his application that he was manager at Tulare for four years and four months. Previous to that time, while he served as manager of the Tulare Ice Company, Brown served as mayor of the city for a four-year term, and was councilman there for eight years.

"Two months after being elected as councilman a third time I was asked to take over the city manager position,' 'Brown explained.

He has now been out of the position for a year or so.

For references, Brown listed Tulare merchants, councilmen, and Manager Hollis Thompson of Berkeley.

Others who so far have sought the local position are Robert M. Kerr, manager at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; Oscar F. Weissgerber, former San Mateo city manager, and W. A. Richmond, former San Leandro manager.

Robert M. Kerr Post Applicant

Robert M. Kerr, 39, city manager of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Monday filed an application with City Clerk B. E. Myers for the position of city manager of Redwood City.

Kerr has held the city manager post at the Florida coast city for the past two years and therefore comes within the technical qualifications of the city charter.

Ft. Lauderdale had a population in 1930 of 8445, making it about the size of Redwood City as of that time.

Kerr was graduated from the University of Michigan with a bachelor of arts degree in February, 1922. He majored in economics and political science.

Three or four years of his after-college period were spent with the Taxpayers League of St. Louis Inc., of Duluth, Minn., Kerr's home city. He was a staff member and later executive secretary of the league. He also has had seven years business experience as an executive in the real estate and manufacturing line in Ft. Lauderdale.

He is a Legioner and served with the United States Navy as an ensign for 27 months.

Kerr is the third applicant who qualifies for the position.

Funeral Rites Held For Belmont Man

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Monday for John S. Hall of Belmont, engineer at the plant there of the San Francisco Water Company for the past 30 years, who died at a San Mateo hospital after a three-month illness.

Following rites at the James Crowe Co. (Parmelee and Phillips) chapel, interment was held at Cypress Lawn. Rev. Norman W. Pendleton conducted the services here.

Mr. Hall, brother of Mrs. Elizabeth McEvoy and Mrs. Emma La Lande of Redwood City, was born in 1872 in Redwood City. His parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hall, came west in 1854, settling at Searsville.

Dinner Meet Invites Given Supervisors

Two invitations for the board of supervisors to attend dinner meetings next week were extended today. The White Collar League, by Edwin J. Halcrow, secretary, asked the board to meet December 3 in Burlingame to hear Congressman John J. McGrath while the California Mission Trails Association Ltd., by Victor Marsh, president, invited the board to a banquet in honor of state supervisors in San Jose December 5.

MRS. M'NABB DIES IN S. F. AS SON BORN

Peninsula Is Shocked At Tragedy Striking Douglass Heiress

Mrs. Ena Douglass McNabb, wife of William Maurice McNabb and daughter of Leon F. Douglass, Menlo Park inventor and scientist, died early on Tuesday in the Children's Hospital, San Francisco, at the birth of a son, who survives her. The news shocked the bay region and peninsula, where she was not only socially prominent but much loved for her kindness to the needy and underprivileged.

The annual Christmas party given by her and her sister, Miss Florence Douglass, for children of the Menlo Park community was only one of the philanthropic activities to which she gave personal thought and effort.

Her death also brought grief to Kappa Kappa Gammas of both Stanford and the University of California, where she had been a popular student, and to members of the Castilleja Alumnae Association, of which she was president.

In the scientific world her loss will also be felt, for she assisted her father in his deep-sea photography and research on several expeditions into tropic waters.

MET ABOARD SHIP

It was on one of these trips that she met Mr. McNabb, then an officer on the Grace Liner Santa Rosa. The romance which developed climaxed in the couple's wedding October 24 of last year at Victoria Manor, the Douglass estate in Menlo Park. For a time Mr. and Mrs. McNabb lived in San Francisco, but for several months have maintained a home on the peninsula.

Mrs. McNabb was born in San Rafael 22 years ago. During their childhood at Menlo Park, she and her sister Florence formed the habit of visiting all the schools in the community each December to invite the pupils to attend a Christmas morning party at the Douglass home. There gifts and entertainment were provided for all.

The girls also played Santa Claus to countless needy families to whom they paid personal calls with Christmas baskets, and continued their interest throughout the year.

Like their parents, they could always be counted on to assist worthy causes with money and enthusiasm.

While the sisters attended preparatory school and college, where their beauty and talents made them outstanding favorites, they still found time to continue their friendly benefactions and the yearly Christmas party.

BELONGED TO SPINSTERS

Mrs. McNabb belonged to the Spinsters and was socially prominent in San Francisco, but was chiefly interested in activities of a more serious sort. She won considerable fame for her prowess as a diver while assisting her father in his underseas research. She was also a talented dancer and an amateur actress.

Surviving relatives are her husband, her parents, three brothers, Leon Jr., Eldridge, and Earl Douglass, and two sisters, Mrs. Benjamin Vinmont and Miss Florence Douglass.

Mr. McNabb, a University of Oregon graduate and former football player, is in business in San Francisco.

Council Harbor Committee Confers Saturday With War Department On Modified Project

Wharf and transit shed facilities for a deep water port for Redwood City, as prepared under the direction of Acting City Manager Charles Dimmitt, were given preliminary examination of the Council Harbor Committee last night, and will be forwarded for War Department consideration in San Francisco on Saturday. Dimmitt's estimates indicated that Redwood City's cost for the harbor development will be kept within the $200,000 anticipated figure.

The plans will be submitted to Col. J. A. Dorst, district engineer of the war department, for approval. Capt. H. S. Pond is expected to be consulted on the plans through long familiarity with the local project.

The army engineers will be informed by the Council Harbor Committee that the port project is now being put forward as a municipal undertaking, instead of under sponsorship of the San Mateo County Harbor District. Consent of the port district is being given because of a wholehearted desire to see the project go ahead.

Presenting the plans Saturday will be Manager Dimmitt; the council committee, consisting of Louis Christensen and Paul McCarthy, councilmen, and Elmore B. Hinman and William Vielhauer, and probably Port Commissioner Henry Beeger.

The plans were prepared by R. J. Clark and Allen Meyerhoffer under direction of Manager Dimmitt.

WHARF, SHED INCLUDED

Provided for in the plans is a 450-foot wharf to meet army engineer demands, although a modification of this structure to 350 feet for the present will be sought in order to reduce costs. Estimates indicate the cost of the wharf will be about $78,400 if no modification is possible.

Also provided for is a transit shed 75 by 160 feet, to cost approximately $10,100, and a highway leading to the wharf site and paving of the transit shed area to take an estimated $5500.

These items cost an estimated total of $94,000, to which 10 per cent, or $9,400 has been added for engineering and contingencies. The estimate for the port facilities is thus given as $103,400, subject to savings which will be made possible by contract work and modifications expected to be allowed by federal authorities.

DREDGING COST DIVIDED

Redwood City will also be called upon to pay one half, or $94,000, of the estimated $188,000 of dredging. The federal government will provide an estimated $100,000 for dredging of San Bruno shoals when public port facilities are provided south of that point, so that government participation for dredging will be about $200,000.

Part of Redwood City's $200,000 estimated cost of the wharf and transit shed is expected to be borne by PWA or WPA funds, the exact amount of which has not yet been determined.

The city's bids for PWA funds would be based upon the fact that the Redwood City harbor project has already been given approval, and was not carried through only because the voters of the county as a whole would not lend Redwood City their assistance.

As the project is an old one and because only a small federal participation is being asked, port boosters feel that the harbor will secure favorable consideration. It is an existing and not a new project.

SOME FUNDS AVAILABLE

Some $15,000,000 in PWA projects were canceled yesterday, opening that amount of funds to new projects. The City of Los Angeles is asking $500,000 for port work, after a $7,700,000 issue was lost by a narrow margin of 1500 votes, and the City of San Jose is seeking $810,000 of PWA funds. San Jose must raise $990,000 in a bond issue to carry out its project.

Contrasted to this is Redwood City's appeal for perhaps $25,000 to $50,000, depending upon the extent of federal participation on the port facilities. This is exclusive of about $200,000 of federal participation for dredging.

If the federal assistance is declined and the amount is found to be small, Redwood City might determine to go ahead on its own, perhaps saving the amount of government participation through letting contracts and effecting savings by securing a better class of workmen than the relief rolls afford.

COUNTY SUPPORT ASKED

The County of San Mateo, through WPA funds being secured by County Engineer Urban Marshall and WPA Coordinator W. W. Hendricks, may construct the concrete highway desired from the Bayshore highway to the port site.

Land acquisition through cooperation of property owners in making the project possible is anticipated by the Council Harbor Committee. The cement plant also has offered its assistance.

It is recognized in all proceedings that speed is essential in getting the plans into the hands of army and works officials in order to share in government participation. This lateness is caused because pleas to the county harbor commission to take action failed because of the feeling that apathy of the county as a whole would not make financing possible.

Congressman John J. McGrath of San Mateo is expected to lend his active support to the project when he returns to Washington, D. C., late in December.

Many Use New Half Moon Bay Lateral Route

Opened during the past week to travel, the new Half Moon Bay 2.7-mile lateral between the Skyline boulevard and a point three miles from the town of Half Moon Bay was heavily traveled Sunday.

The route, which replaces the old Half Moon Bay road between these two points, was taken into the state highway system under the 6,600-mile plan. It is a completely new road from the summit to the canyon floor. The old road winds along the north side of the canyon while the new one is on the south side, thus eliminating the worst stretch on the route, the narrow roadway, winding curves and steep grade down the mountainside.

The new road is graded to a 30-foot width with a 22-foot bituminous surface. It cost slightly in excess of $175,000, according to Col. John H. Skeggs, district engineer for the State Division of Highways, under whose supervision the project was completed.

The new route provides easier grades, better alignment, width and surface. It eliminates about two-thirds of the curves on the old road on which many accidents have taken place.

New Chevrolet Is Offered As "The Complete Car"

"From the primitive gasoline buggy to a luxurious drawing room on wheels—this is the transformation which human ingenuity, as personified by the automotive engineer, has brought about," according to Al Davies of the Davies Auto Company, local Chevrolet dealers. All that could come later. And it has come, too, as is evidenced by the 1936 Chevrolets. In them, the Chevrolet Motor Company presents the complete car—the product it sincerely believes to represent the greatest advance.

"How great that advance is, is perhaps best judged by inspecting these new cars. From the standpoint of performance. The 80-horsepower high compression valve-in-head engine under the sleek hood of the 1936 Chevrolet bears not the slightest resemblance to the noisy, uncertain contraption of three decades ago; yet it is its direct descendant, evolved by gradual stages into its present smooth-running, powerful, economical and durable form.

"Equally complete is the change that has taken place in bodies. The advances incorporated in the new Chevrolets carry still further a development which an industry less aggressive and persistent might have been excused for abandoning years ago as incapable of further development. Deep-cushioned upholstery comparable with that in the finest drawing room furniture; ventilation more positive, and subject to greater control than in the average home; safety, comfort, and convenience evolved to almost unbelievable heights—all these will be found in today's complete car.

You can have 40 different flushes with an ordinary deck of 52 cards in poker.

S. F. JOINS COUNTY IN STATE REQUEST

Funds for El Camino Real, Pedro Road Not Obtained

Representatives of San Mateo and San Francisco counties Tuesday had joined hands in requesting Earl Lee Kelly, state director of public works, to declare Junipero Serra, connecting El Camino Real in San Mateo county and 19th avenue in San Francisco, a state highway, the Associated Press reported to The Tribune from Sacramento.

At present the highway is listed as a county road under the supervision of San Mateo county, which because most of its traffic originates in San Francisco has objected to maintaining the road.

Kelly told Supervisor Albert Witt of San Mateo county, Assemblyman Frederick Peterson of Burlingame, and Albert Bowhay, of the engineering department of San Francisco county, only the legislature has the power to include roads in the state highway system.

Witt and Bowhay said they will have the road changed back to the jurisdiction of joint highway district No. 10 where it was before it was declared a county road. Kelly said he will approve the change.

District No. 10, composed of San Mateo and San Francisco counties, will then assume maintenance of the highway.

Witt also asked Kelly for funds for completion of the Pedro Mountain road but was told to apply to the WPA. Peterson requested funds for widening El Camino Real but was advised the state had no money available for the improvement.

Former Sequoia Student Passes At Local Home

Following an illness of six months, Norman W. Wagner, 21, passed away Saturday evening at the home of his mother, 1552 Jefferson avenue. A native of San Francisco, he had resided here since 1920. He was a graduate of Sequoia Union High School.

Besides his mother, Mrs. Johanna Wagner, he is survived by three sisters, Jane, Olga and Gladys Wagner. Another sister, Agnes Wagner, passed away here in 1924.

MENLO PARK NEWS

Archbishop J. J. Mitty of San Francisco will administer the sacrament of confirmation to a large class in the Church of the Nativity on Sunday immediately after the 11 o'clock mass. Father Cavanagh of Redwood City and Father Galvin of Mountain View and other priests of the bay region will assist at the ceremony. This will be Archbishop Mitty's first visit to the parish since his consecration some months ago. Father McKeon has been busy preparing the children for weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts were here for the Big Game at Stanford last Saturday and remained for a few days with Mrs. Roberts' parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Aylward. Mrs. Roberts was Katherine Aylward until her marriage a few months ago. She had been a stewardess on one of the airlines. Mr. Roberts is a transport pilot.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Meyer of Menlo Park spent the week-end in Paradise with the former's brother, Clarence E. Meyer.

More than $160 was cleared by the bazaar and entertainment given in the Menlo Park Presbyterian social hall Thursday night by women of the church. A capacity audience attended the evening program.

Last Saturday morning the mortal remains of John Rosso were followed to Holy Cross Cemetery, Menlo Park, by the largest cortege seen here for years, following a requiem mass in the Church of the Nativity. The deceased was a member of the Order of Owls of Redwood City and a director of the Italian Family Club here. Mr. Rosso was an expert gardener and for years was superintendent of the Hooper estate at Palo Alto. He resided in Menlo Park for many years and was held in high esteem by all who knew him. He is survived by a wife and three daughters who have the sympathy of the people of Menlo Park in their bereavement.

The heartfelt sympathy of the people of Menlo Park goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Leon Douglass in the death of their daughter, Mrs. Ena McNabb, Tuesday morning in San Francisco. Mrs. McNabb passed away at the birth of a son. The beautiful girl was married a little over a year ago, she then being only 22 years old. Mrs. McNabb was loved by the people of Menlo Park for her kindness and good deeds in assisting those in distress. The big Christmas tree, loaded with gifts, under her supervision was always the outstanding event of the holiday season for years. Long will the memory of this noble woman be cherished by the young and old of Menlo Park.

Teachers Elect Dean of College As County Head

Charles S. Morris, dean of San Mateo Junior College, is the newly elected president of the San Mateo Teachers' Association.

He was voted to the office on Monday when 600 county educators met at Sequoia high school in the opening day of the three-day institute.

Morris succeeds Henry C. Hall, superintendent of schools in San Bruno, who presided at the luncheon held in the Sequoia cafeteria.

Other newly chosen officers are Mrs. Florence Mosher, Portola principal, vice president; Dorothy Jones, principal of the Northbrae school in San Bruno, secretary-treasurer; and Clive M. Saiz of the Redwood City Jefferson faculty, who will continue as editor of the San Mateo County Teachers' Bulletin.

State Printer's Status Puzzles At Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 27 (AP)—Legally, George Moore is—and isn't—state printer.

He holds the position under Governor Merriam's appointment of April 15. And the law commands that, temporarily at least, the name of Moore be stricken from the state payroll.

The paradoxical situation arises from Moore's assumption of the office without civil service status. To clear the legal obstacle, the Lodi publisher recently joined a dozen other applicants in a competitive examination.

Moore's six-month temporary appointment period expired on October 15, and it will be several weeks before the test papers are corrected. He will know then whether he is—or isn't—state printer.

In the meantime, Chief Clerk Robert Alexander of the printing division, given civil rating as assistant state printer, performs the official duties of his chief.

Moore keeps on working in the office lined with newspaper mats—and wonders.

The custom of early English pastry cooks of adorning their apple pies with a neat row of scallops is the source of the expression "in apple pie order."
